

Volunteer Opportunity in Community Science Outreach for Summer-2016

Science 101 is a non-credit, barrier free Science community outreach program offered to adult residents of Vancouver's Downtown Eastside and other inner-city communities. We have a variety of lectures, tutorials, and field trips to inspire a love of science and education.

Volunteers are an important part of Science 101 and are given a variety of responsibilities both inside and outside the classroom such as:

- Engaging adult students through one-on-one personal and scientific discussions,
- Enabling confidence building and participation in small group activities,
- Helping students with project conceptualization, organization, and preparation, etc.

Requirements:

- Be an undergraduate or graduate student in the Faculty of Science.
- Attend at least one of the 3-5 activities per week, and must commit for 4 months from May to August.
- Experience working with diverse adult populations is an asset.

Apply by:

- 1) Complete an application form: <http://science.ubc.ca/community/101> or

- 2) Attend one of our information sessions

- | | | |
|-----------------------------|----------------|---|
| a. Tue Feb 23, 2016 | 11:00am | Earth Science Building – Room 2025 |
| b. Fri March 4, 2016 | 3:00pm | Earth Science Building – Room 2025 |
| c. Mon March 7, 2016 | 1:00pm | Earth Science Building – Room 2064 |